

WEBSITE OF THE DAY - netlingo.com

Get with the program, as they say, and learn the proper lingo

NEWS: 31 March 2008 by Ian Hughes

Here's one for all those who don't know their dongles from their dial-ups.

The language of technology in the 21st Century is fast-moving and constantly evolving and this is one place where you can keep up to date with all the buzzwords and new ideas.

Great for parents, teachers and those luddites who still think a mouse is something a cat chases.
